

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

1. What is a “non-public place”?

A non-public place refers to a place in which members of public have no access to. This includes:

- a) Residential homes (excluding common spaces such as void decks)
- b) Private function rooms within privately owned premises (e.g. Condominiums)
- c) Private rooms in hotels and country clubs
- d) Office premises (in which only employees have access to)

2. If I am delivering liquor to non-public places, can I continue to supply liquor/beer at my licensed premise?

No. You may not sell or supply any form of liquor at your licensed premise outside the trading hours stated on your liquor licence.

3. Can I sell liquor/beer at any time if the customers request for the liquor/beer to be delivered to non-public places?

You may not sell liquor/beer over the counter or at your licensed premise after the trading hours stated on your liquor licence. However, if you are a licence holder of an online business, your customers can place their orders through the online service anytime.

The ordered liquor/beer can be delivered to any place during the trading hours. Delivery after the trading hours can only be made to a non-public place.

4. Will the delivery to non-public places apply to my online liquor business?

If you are a licence holder of an online business, your customers can place their orders through the online service anytime.

The ordered liquor/beer can be delivered by the Licence Holder, or through a delivery service engaged by the Licence Holder, to any place during the trading hours. Delivery after the trading hours can only be made to a non-public place.

5. When can I deliver liquor to public places?

You may deliver liquor to public places during the existing retail/wholesale trading hours under the Liquor Control (Supply and Consumption) Act:

- a) From 0700hrs to 2230hrs daily; and
- b) Within a Liquor Control Zone:
 - i. From 0700hrs to 2230hrs on Weekdays; and
 - ii. From 0700hrs to 1900hrs on Weekends, Public Holiday and eve of a Public Holiday.